

Exhibit

1814 Campaign in France. The tale begins in Aube.

The land of Napoleon's youth and the theatre of many battles, Aube in Champagne is commemorating the bicentennial of the 1814 Campaign in France.

An event organised by the Aube Departmental Council / Army Museum / Napoleon Foundation / Defence Historical Service

Through nearly 100 unknown and original documents and objects, discover the strong ties between Napoleon and Aube, from the end of the 18th century to the beginning of the 19th century.

THE MAN AND THE TERRITORY

The exhibit highlights Napoleon's youth at the Royal Military College of Brienne-le-Château – 5 decisive years where he "became a man and a soldier."

Aube during the Empire

Beyond Napoleon, the exhibit explores Aube at the end of the 18th century and beginning of the 19th century. Before being shaken by the invasions of 1814 and 1815, Aube was enjoying real prosperity as the hosiery trade took off, vineyards expanded quickly and agriculture reigned supreme.

☛ Don't miss: the atlas, recently authenticated by the Napoleon Foundation as having belonged to Napoleon during his stay in Brienne. This geography manual, with the future emperor's annotations, underscores his diligence.

The Campaign in France

An interactive map to understand the 1814 Campaign in France: During the exhibit, you can follow the movements of Napoleon troops and coalition troops. The important places of the campaign are illustrated and commented on.

☛ Exceptional objects: You can also relive the period through numerous authentic objects: Napoleon's hat, soldiers' uniforms, orders written and signed by Napoleon, arms, paintings and documents.

Local consequences

This is the first time that a military occupation in the 19th century in France is presented to the public in such detail. Aube occupied: Aube is one of the only departments to hold so many archives on how the territorial occupation by the Bavarians, Cossacks, Russians and Austrians was organised and its consequences during and after the Campaign in France.

☛ Don't miss: The unpublished documents include posters, requisition orders and lists of wounded soldiers, prisoners and war damages.
